Life Education Classes: Medicare and Social Security

Retirement
Only Means
That It Is
Time
For a New Adventure

Are you contemplating retirement? Not sure where to begin getting correct information? This class will educate prospective retirees as they near retirement by answering questions regarding Medicare and Social Security. Receive an informative hand out and assistance with online registration. Join the engaging Robert Fenn, Public Affairs Specialist, of the Social Security Administration.

When: Thursday, November 17, 2016

Time: 6:00 pm

Where: Richfield Recreation Center

Fee: FREE

*Please let us know you are coming

- Have you earned enough quarters of coverage to receive benefits?
- At what age should you file? Is it too early to think about Social Security?
- Can you work and receive Social Security benefits?
- Divorced? Can you file on a previous spouse's earnings?
- What's the quickest way to receive your benefit?
- Do you have to file for Medicare?
- What if you paid into a different retirement system? Are you still eligible to receive a benefit?

Don't miss out on this special educational class on Medicare and Social Security!
